

EQUAL IDIOTS EPK

From 2012 onwards these two idiots from Hoogstraten City have been besetting your ears with their hard-boiled garage punk.

Thibault Christiaensen is the guitarist and sweet-voiced bellow of the two while Pieter Bruurs smacks his drumheads to pieces, just for your pleasure.

With that kind of Tasmanian devils duo on speed energetic live shows and ultra-sore sets are guaranteed, topped off with some beer and birds. Equal Idiots won De Nieuwe Lichting 2016 of Studio Brussels and reached the final round of Humo's Rock Rally. From then on they got ahead quickly. Their debut single 'Salmon Pink' got a tempting taste of airplay on Studio Brussels and reached a well-wanted rank in De Afrekening. After a year full of live shows, these two are all over your radio. With 'Put My Head In The Ground' they topped the chart in De Afrekening for 5 weeks, enough said.

In June, they released their debut album 'Eagle Castle BBQ', a perfect cocktail of banging garagerock and catchy tunes. By now they have conquered somewhat the whole of Flanders and also in the Netherlands they are gaining ground. After a summer full of festivals (with for example Suikerrock and Lokerse Feesten), no stage in Belgium will face a lack of energy this year. The musical duo is on fire, ambitious as they are, and even the Netherlands caught sight of their flame after their live session on 3FM.

This summer they're not only playing the main stage of Pukkelpop, they also recorded their second full-length album. For the second time, they worked together with producer Thomas Valkiers (High Times Studio) which seems to be the perfect ingredient for fresh, punky and catchy songs you should only listen to with a volume past level 10. First single 'Run' definitely gives a proper first taste of what is to come: guitars, drums and more rock 'n' roll. The musical duo is still on fire, ambitious as they are, and will release this second album early 2020, when they play a headline show in the famous Ancienne Belgique.

'Equal Idiots served the most delicious rattle rock from the junkhouse with sincere enthusiasm. That their official bandmoto can continue to "drink beer and calling cunt".'
- Humo (AB Show)

'A duo that feels most at home in up-tempo noise that leaves the worries of the weekdays far behind'
- Humo (Rock Werchter)

'Without any form of pretension, they rush out their numbers in concentration form. It is fierce and jumpy, with some cautious nods towards The Ramones, The Strokes and The Kills every now and then.'
- OOR (ESNS 18)
